Weekly MGGGA Crop Survey Begins

Great Falls – There’s no better place to stay abreast of what’s going on with grain producers statewide than by reading the Montana Grain Growers Association (MGGGA) weekly Crop Survey. The Montana Crop Survey is posted each Tuesday throughout the growing season on Montana MarketManager Online.

Grower reports include updates on precipitation, soil moisture conditions, crop condition and growth stage, pest and weed problems and estimated yield potential and harvest date.

“For seventeen years our survey has provided first-hand information to other producers, extension agents, business leaders, policy makers and the media,” said Lola Raska, Executive Vice-President for the Montana Grain Growers Association.

Continuing through harvest, the Montana Crop Survey can be found at www.montanamarketmanager.org under the ‘Weather’ menu item. For more information call 406-761-4596.
